The Soldier.

If I should die, think only this of me,
That there's some corner of a foreign field
That is for ever England. There shall be
In that rich soil a richer dust concealed,
A dust whom England bore, shaped, made aware,
Gave, once, her flowers to love, her ways to roam,
A body of England's, breathing English air,
Washed by the rivers, blest by suns of home.

And think ~~think~~ ^{think} this heart, all evil, shed away,
A ~~low~~ pulse in the eternal mind, no less
Gives somewhere back the thoughts by England given,
Her sights & sounds; dreams happy as her day;
And laughter, heart of friends; and gentleness,
In hearts at peace, under an English heaven.
